Family of missing man appeal for information

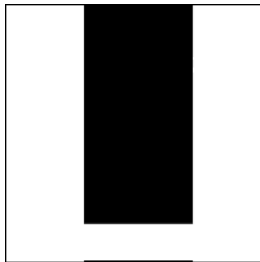

06 January 2006 17:13

The mother and sister of a missing plumber and barman from Co Down, Martin Kelly, have made an emotional appeal for anyone with information to come forward.

21-year-old Mr Kelly was last seen on New Year's day watching a football match with two friends in Pat's Bar at Garmoyle Street in Belfast. He left alone at 7.10pm.

Police are keen to talk to anyone who may have seen him in one of the city's nightspots or to a taxi driver who may have given him a lift.

He was wearing a black Guinness T-shirt, blue jeans and trainers.

Police have also appealed to Mr Kelly, who has an address in Hollywood, near Belfast, to get in touch with either them or his family.
