Missing man's family launch site

The family and friends of a missing Hollywood man are launching a website to try to gain clues to his whereabouts.

Martin Kelly went missing in Belfast

Martin Kelly, 21, went missing after going with friends to Pat's Bar in Garmoyle Street in the docks area of Belfast on New Year's Day.

On Thursday, his family and friends will be outside Belfast City Hall handing out leaflets and posters containing the new website address.

A large banner of the address is also being printed.

Mr Kelly's family and friends have previously criticised the police for not doing enough to find him.

Since his disappearance, they have handed out leaflets outside city hall and the Odyssey arena, in an attempt to jog people's memory and gain information.

Last Sunday, they released 100 yellow balloons, before taking part in a search of the docklands and surrounding areas.

Many people also took part in a walk from Pat's Bar back to Mr Kelly's home town of Hollywood in County Down.

On the same day, police used dogs and a helicopter, as well as boats, to search from Dee Street in east Belfast to the Hollywood Exchange.

Mr Kelly, a plumber and part-time barman, stayed on in Pat's Bar after his friends left and was seen leaving it alone at about 1910 GMT.
